Keynote Speaker
Rick Fedrizzi
President and
Founding Chairman,
U.S. Green Building Council

Rick Fedrizzi, Founding Chairman of the U.S. Green Building Council and Vice Chairman of the World Green Building Council, is a frequent speaker on green marketing, industrial ecology and sustainable "green" building design. Mr. Fedrizzi is the founder and president of Green-Think, an environmentally focused marketing and communications consulting firm, which he established after his distinguished 25 year career at Carrier Corporation. Rick's experience includes membership on the Greening of the White House feasibility study team that developed the environmental, energy audits and upgrade recommendations announced by President Clinton. He has worked with the U.S. Department of Energy to advise them on manufacturing and green building technologies in the development of the National Energy Policy Plan.
