

Green Valley Initiative presents...

The Green Prosperity Workshop

Speakers from Silicon Valley, Sacramento and other parts of the state will speak on their solutions to promoting green industry on a regional scale.

When: 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Thursday, July 23

Where: Engineering Building II, Room 205-206, U.C. Riverside

Why: To learn more about the promise of collaborative programs that are leading to job growth in clean and green industries

RSVP: Pre-registration required, please call Linda Parker at 951-827- 5190 or e-mail deansdesk@engr.ucr.edu

The event is free, and a box lunch is included

Speakers include:

Becky Morgan, President, Morgan Family Foundation;

Doug Henton, Chairman and CEO, Collaborative Economics Inc.;

Ali Sahabi, Chairman, Green Valley Initiative; Kelly Krpata, Director, Applied Materials Climate Prosperity Initiative, Silicon Valley; Yvette Rincon,

Legislative Analyst, City of Sacramento ; Steven Franz, Sacramento Municipal Utility District; Greg Freeman, VP Economic and Policy Consulting; Los Angeles Economic Development Corporation; Nikki Riley, Sierra Business Council Scott Kirk, Sonoma County Business Environmental Alliance

Agenda:

10:00 Purpose and introductions

10:15 Green Valley Initiative

10:45 Presentation by Sacramento team

11:30 Presentation by Silicon Valley

12:30 Working Lunch – Identifying Common Issues (John Melville, Collaborative Economics)

1:00 Exchange to identify common teams

2:00 Update on National Climate Prosperity Project

3:00 Adjourn